

Panic Is Out, Ike Declares

He Says Administration Will Aid Economic Health

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today his administration will undertake any measure, including tax reduction if necessary, that will assist healthy economic recovery.

But he said it isn't going to be panicked by alarmists into activities which could make the present recession hardships of business and individuals chronic instead of temporary.

Ordinance Revision Completed

First Edition Given To Mayor Bagby At City Council Meeting

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The City of Sedalia's project of revision of the old and new ordinances has been completed and presentation of the first bound and printed book of the ordinances was made to Mayor Julian H. Bagby at the regular Council meeting Monday night by John C. McCloskey, attorney, who conducted the work of nearly two years.

During the meeting Councilman Aubrey Case, chairman of the printing and ordinances committee of the Council took the floor and announced the completion of the work. Case, in his talk, pointed out that McCloskey had been commissioned to conduct the research and revision, and stated Sedalia now has one of the finest sets of ordinances as any city of its size.

He pointed out that a program started under Mayor Bagby back in the 1940's was not completed until the present administration took over and voted to complete the revision work. "It is now completed," Case said, "and we have our ordinances classified, indexed and revised in a most satisfactory manner and we are proud of a job well done by Mr. McCloskey. These bound and printed books of ordinances will be placed in the law offices, the public library, schools, and other offices where such ordinances are often referred to."

McCloskey was then introduced and presented the first book of ordinances to the City, McCloskey, in making the presentation, said, "the project of revision was started back under a previous administration of Mayor Bagby. It was forgotten about until his present administration and I was employed to do this work."

He explained the last revision was in 1912, but that in making this revision he had gone back to the record of history to avoid any duplication, in fact, to the very first ordinance of which the City made a legal record. Through the advantages of research of other cities and the system placed in use throughout the United States, Sedalia's revision was made under

Employees File Suits Against Bus Company

OLATHE—Five bus drivers and two mechanics filed suits in Johnson County District Court yesterday for about $1,800 back wages allegedly owed them by Inter City Bus Lines, Inc.

The suit names as officers of the firm Glenn E. Watson, president; J. T. Whitesides, secretary and Cecil F. Watson, treasurer, all of Columbia, Mo.

The drivers asked for amounts ranging from $200 to $313. When the employees reported for work Feb. 13 on the bus line operating in Johnson County suburbs they discovered the busses and furnishings had been removed from the line's headquarters.

"The city is in government hands," he said, "but I don't know for how long."

Deary said the 250 Americans

The President's remarks were prepared for a conference of some 1,800 Republican women.

He hinted at a veto of a bill the Senate passed last week to freeze price supports on farm commodities.

He said that "freezing rigidly the price-depressing practices of the past represents in my opinion a 180-degree turn in the wrong direction—the direction that can only lead to chronic controls and perpetual troubles for the farmer."

Eisenhower mentioned no names, but he said that the standard of official conduct must be the highest standard known to human behavior.

He put in new plugs for support for his foreign aid and trade programs, saying that "peace is at stake."

In a political note on a political occasion, Eisenhower told the GOP women:

"The Republican party and Republican administration are proud to take their stand on their nationwide principles their consistent five-year endeavor to apply those principles and their forward-looking proposals for the future. This is not a narrow, partisan set of principles and proposals. These are the actions that the overwhelming majority of Americans, Republicans, Democrats, and independents, know in their hearts are what the country needs and the whole world needs."

First Big Night Of Lion's Show To Be Wednesday

The Lions Club Minstrel will be presented Wednesday and Thursday nights starting at 8 o'clock at the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium.

Rehearsals have proved a big problem to the minstrel cast with political meetings, church meetings, club meetings and civic meetings interfering, but tonight everybody will be there. No worry about them not being at rehearsal—all other meetings are cancelled for tonight.

Tonight the worry will be, do the costumes fit, does everybody know their part, will the amplifiers work, will everybody get there on time, and how well will the rehearsal be put together?

Wednesday night—their first big night—the worry will be will they have a crowd? The Lions feel certain that if they can get the people there Wednesday night, they won't have to worry about Thursday night. Those who see the show will think it's so good they will tell everybody and they will be standing in line to get in.

MKT Asks Authority To Issue New Notes

WASHINGTON—The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Co. today asked Interstate Commerce Commission authority to issue four million dollars in promissory notes, the interest rate to be determined by competitive bidding.

The money would be used to rebuild yards and terminal facilities at Parsons, Kan., and Waco, Texas, and in rehabilitation of diesel engines.

The Americans were told to leave by U.S. rubber firms and Christian missions whose forces make up most of the American population in North Sumatra. The evacuees included personnel of the U.S. Rubber Co. and Good-year, which have vast plantations in the areas, and 25 American missionaries and teachers.

In a telephone call from Medan, Deary said no Americans had been injured in the two battles,

Air-Conditioning Set For City Post Office

The General Services Administration has announced the award of design contracts for air conditioning and lighting four federal buildings in Missouri, including the post offices in Sedalia and Clinton.

The designs for the service at Sedalia and Clinton will be worked out by the J. R. DeRigne & Associates, Kansas City. The Sedalia improvements will cost an estimated $80,000 and those at Clinton are estimated at $85,500. The plans should be completed by May, GSA announced.

Kirkville and Chillicothe are the other two cities mentioned.

Decision Seen Two Months Off

Republican Heads Discuss Tax Cut At the White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tax cut possibilities were discussed by Republican leaders at a White House conference today but they said afterward a decision probably will be put off for two months.

Senate GOP leader Knowland of California made the forecast of delay after the 2½-hour session.

In the interval, he said, the administration will review the impact of antirecession steps it already has taken in housing, highway and public works construction.

And, he said, Secretary of the Treasury Anderson informed the conference that the administration will undertake no tax program without prior consultation with Democratic leaders of the Senate and House.

Knowland said these leaders already have seen the secretary and he assumes the implication is the Democrats also will put forth no leadership-backed tax cut plan of their own without consulting the administration.

Anderson, Knowland said, did not outline any specific forms for tax cuts that might be used in the event business and employment fail to recover in reasonable time. This was in contradiction to what Sen. Martin (R-Pa.), senior GOP member of the Senate Finance Committee, had told newsmen.

Martin, first to emerge from the weekly White House session, had said a number of alternatives were mentioned, such as reducing withholding taxes, cutting excise taxes, and lowering taxes on individuals and business in a way to encourage greater investments in private enterprise.

Jackson County Tax Increase Bill Causes Stir, But Measure Passes

It Moves on to the Senate Along With Five Other Bills

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A Jackson County tax increase caused the only ripple today as the Missouri House of Representatives whipped through six bills with little argument. All now go to the Senate.

A bill to raise the Jackson County hospital tax from a top of four cents to six cents on the $100 assessed valuation was the single measure to arouse the House members.

Rep. Joseph M. Tanner (D) of Kansas City said the money is needed because the hospital is run down and the X-ray equipment obsolete.

But Rep. Dwight Beals (R) of Kansas City quoted Kansas City doctors as saying "all the money in the world wouldn't clean up the mess out there."

And Mrs. Clara Aiken Speer (R) of Kansas City said she wasn't going to vote for any tax increases until a fair system is set up in Jackson County. She said the people "are being taxed to death" and she had never received such a quantity of mail as she has this session against tax increases.

She charged the money would be used for political purposes. The bill was sent to the Senate on a 93-12 vote, 14 more than the 79 needed.

Also passed, all by lopsided votes, were bills to:

Change the new state employees' retirement system so an employee who has worked 15 years or more or a legislator who has served eight years or more, may leave their contributions in the system after quitting state employment and start drawing retirement benefits at 65. The state's share of contributions would come from state agency funds instead of from general revenue.

Raise the number of St. Louis County circuit judges from six to 10.

Give the Kansas City Election Board power to revamp wards to fit population shifts caused by expressways and other construction; transfer persons in annexed areas automatically from the county to the city registration rolls; lock voting registers inside the voting machines when they are taken to the polls.

Its calendar almost bare of further work, the House quit for the day well before noon.

Meanwhile the chances of St. Louis getting the lid lifted from its present earnings tax appeared to be fading.

The House Governmental Organizations Committee killed a bill last night that would have let St. Louis voters raise the present limit of one-half of one per cent on the earnings tax.

And in a Senate committee, reportedly locked up tight, is an identical bill. Sen. Edward J. Hogan (D) of St. Louis, chairman of the committee, is bitterly opposed to any increase in the tax.

Before the House committee Mayor Raymond R. Tucker of St. Louis and other sponsors of the bill pleaded for favorable action.

Mrs. Blair Named 1958 State Mother

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. James T. Blair, mother of Missouri's governor, today was named the 1958 Missouri Mother.

Mrs. Blair, 75, is active in the civic and religious life of Jefferson City. She is the mother of two other sons and two daughters in addition to Gov. James T. Blair Jr. Two are judges.

She was named today by the Missouri Mothers Committee of American Mothers Inc., headed by Mrs. James A. Finch Jr. of St. Louis.

The committee awarded certificates of merit to six other Missouri mothers. They are: Mrs. Mable Voss Friesz of Salisbury; Mrs. Rex T. Barrett of Columbia; Mrs. Lena Burke of Charleston; Mrs. Anna Brandt of Kansas City; Mrs. T. E. Brane of Harrisburg; and Mrs. Esther Lee of Columbia.

A citation will be presented to Mrs. Blair by the governor at a ceremony in Jefferson City tentatively set for April 20. The six certificates will be presented the same night.

Her other children are Cole County Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair; Mrs. Chapman Turner, wife of the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal; and Mrs. Lynn M. Ewing, Nevada. Mrs. Ewing is a former president of the Missouri Bar Assn.

Symphony Orchestra Closes 23rd Season

The Sedalia Symphony Orchestra closed its 23rd season Monday night with an outstanding concert, assisted by an especially gifted artist, John Pennink, pianist.

Pennink's first portion of the program, three Chopin compositions, Ballade in G minor, Nocturne in F major and the B flat minor Scherzo, were notably gratifying, displaying to the full the artist's fine technique, clarity of line and masterly communication of emotional content of the music.

In view of his amazing natural musicianship, it is the more astonishing to know that Pennink, born in Java and interned with his parents at the beginning of World War II when 12 years old, didn't begin serious study of the piano until he was 16 years old. He has a fresh, young but serious approach to his piano playing that obviously appealed to the audience and brought storms of applause.

The orchestra itself was in fine fettle, giving a professional reading of Schubert's allegro moderato movement from the Symphony No. 8 in B minor (the Unfinished). Closing the first half of the program was an interesting arrangement by Don Wallace of airs from "The Most Happy Fella" by Frank Loesser. Conductor Abe Rosenthal mentioned that this number had proved to be a challenge to the orchestra, containing as it did many peculiar tempo changes and queer chords and harmonies. There seemed to be no doubt that arranger Wallace had solved the problem of arranging musical comedy tunes to fit a symphony orchestra, for the musicians arose to the occasion nobly under Rosenthal's precise baton.

After intermission, Hosmer's "Southern Rhapsody," a concoction of old southern airs, was presented. John Pennink reappeared to play two Intermezzos by Brahms, "La Puerta del Vino" by Debussy, "Jeux d'eau" by Ravel, "Evocation" and "Navarra" by Liszt, and "Etude Opus 8 No. 12, B-flat major" by Scriabin.

The orchestra closed the concert with a rousing presentation of the Bacchanale from "Samson et Delilah," Saint-Saens, which gave the talented percussionist, D'Ann Brougher, ample opportunity to perform. In other numbers, especially good French horn solos were performed by Gene Holt and piano passages by Dr. T. S. Hopkins.

The concert, which was presented at Smith-Cotton auditorium, was the last one of the 1957-58 season.

Pennink was scheduled to give another concert at 9:30 Tuesday morning at the Kansas City Junior College, and an effort was made to locate a ride for him since proper bus and train connections could not be made. After yesterday's Democrat-Capital story about it, Pennink received five offers and on Tuesday morning rode to Kansas City with Abe Silverman, leaving at 7 a.m.

Health Division Urges Action on Polio Shots

Time is running short for the Missouri Division of Health to help out with polio shots, because state vaccine will be available only through June 30, Dr. H. M. Hardwicke, acting director, revealed this week.

The division is gravely concerned because, even though the Salk vaccine has been available for three years, there are many areas throughout the state not adequately protected, Dr. Hardwicke said. Surveys show that many areas are not protected from a polio epidemic.

Most communities, he said, have had a vaccination program of sorts, but these programs have been discontinued in the belief that the coverage was adequate. But the surveys show many of these programs have not yet reached enough people to protect against an epidemic.

Edith De Mott, nurse at Health District Number 3, with headquarters in Sedalia, urged all communities to take advantage of the state-furnished vaccine before the

Omnibus Bill Gets the Ax In the House

The $2,505,049 Bill Is Chopped To $1,309,900

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee used an ax on the omnibus, or catchall, money bill last night.

The $2,505,049 bill was cut to $1,309,900 by chopping out many small and large items and reducing others sharply.

Major casualties in the committee action—and probable prime sources of House-Senate fights in the last few days of the session—were:

Committee refusal to restore $346,896 in funds for aid to dependent children during the coming fiscal year. An earlier appropriations measure had included that money but the committee and the House agreed it should be carved away. During the House argument there were charges that many women in Missouri are raising more children just to get more ADC money. Meanwhile, it has been reported the Senate Appropriations Committee put the full budget item back in the earlier bill.

Reduction of a $1 million appropriation to $600,000 for additional buildings at St. Louis State Hospital.

Reduction of twin $75,000 appropriations to $25,000 each for buying land for agricultural research centers in southeastern and southwestern Missouri.

Elimination of a $200,000 State Park Board fund for construction of a shrine at Mark Twain State Park in Marion County.

Elimination of a $48,593 item for meeting a court judgment that the state must pay back holiday wages to penitentiary guards.

Elimination of $20,880 for razing old buildings at the State School for the Deaf, Fulton.

The committee did add $66,000 for construction of a new dairy barn by the University of Missouri school of agriculture. The barn burned last week.

In accordance with a recommendation yesterday by University President Elmer Ellis, the committee reduced a $450,000 appropriation to $350,000 for a swimming pool and additional gymnasium space.

Also added was $12,000 for costs of the State Commission on Human Relations.

Workers Begin Cutting Trees Along Broadway

The second sign of progress in the project of widening Broadway appeared Tuesday when workers of the Union Construction Co., Kansas City, began cutting and removing marked trees along the right-of-way. The first sign was the marking of the trees to be destroyed, by the survey crew a few weeks ago.

Work began at Beacon, and the crews are working their way east on the left side of the street. A unique method is being used in the removal to prevent damage to property along the street, but one side has been blocked off and the remaining side can be used as a one way traffic lane.

Instead of cutting the trees and then cutting them into sections, the workers are beginning at the top and working down. First, the limbs are cut off and allowed to fall to the ground. Then the limbs are cut up, loaded onto trucks and hauled away. Then the workers begin cutting the tree trunk off in sections, beginning at the top and working down. These sections also are loaded up and hauled away.

After the tree is worked down to a stump, there is another machine ready, a grinder which chews the stump down to ground level. All that remains of what was once a tree is a pile of chips. Soon, however, a wide, paved, and well-lighted thoroughfare will replace the narrow street which is now Broadway.

More Fighting Is in Prospect

Americans Are Moved Out

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—U.S. firms and missions ordered 250 Americans out of Medan today as prospects loomed for more fighting in the see-saw battle for the North Sumatran capital.

Confirming that the key port and rail center which fell to the rebels Sunday had been retaken by Jakarta government troops, U.S. Vice Consul Richard Deary indicated another rebel attack was expected.

"The city is in government hands," he said, "but I don't know for how long."

Deary said the 250 Americans

—including women and children—would leave for Singapore Thursday aboard the liner Oranje. The liner also will take out 825 Dutch nationals.

The Americans were told to leave by U.S. rubber firms and Christian missions whose forces make up most of the American population in North Sumatra. The evacuees included personnel of the U.S. Rubber Co. and Good-year, which have vast plantations in the areas, and 25 American missionaries and teachers.

In a telephone call from Medan, Deary said no Americans had been injured in the two battles, during which the city of 300,000 went into rebel hands and back to the forces of President Sukarno.

A battalion of the Medan garrison led by Maj. Boyke Nainn Golan switched allegiance to the rebel cause Sunday and took over the town. But before rebel reinforcements from Central Sumatra could arrive, Deary said, loyalist Indonesian army paratroopers dropped on Medan's Belawan Harbor early Monday, then regained control of the city of 300,000 after a brief struggle. Nainn Golan and his force withdrew from the city.

Radio Medan was partly knocked out by the fight, but two of its four transmitters were operating later.

Rebel sources in Singapore had reported that Capt. Pohan, who displaced the Jakarta-appointed commander in northwest Sumatra's Tapanuli province Friday, was advancing on the Medan with three battalions. The radio in Padang, the revolutionary government's headquarters on the west coast of Central Sumatra, also reported that fighting was going on in the Langkat area north of Medan.

Woman Asks Status As New Nation

WALLER, Tex. (AP)—Embattled Mrs. Irene Clift, 59, fought a court ruling taking away 350 acres by seceding from the Union yesterday. She asked U.N. recognition as a separate nation.

A sister, Mrs. Lucy Mayberry, said Mrs. Clift also wrote Gov. Price Daniel asking intervention. Federal courts have ruled 350 acres in this southeast Texas community belong to the heirs of George Scott. Mrs. Clift has said Scott was a friend and not a partner and has denied claims to the land.

She pitched a tent, moved in household goods and armed herself with a shotgun.

Her sister, Mrs. Mayberry, held the fort when Deputy U.S. Marshal Ellis Binford tried to present Mrs. Clift with a copy of a request for an injunction ordering the woman not to trespass.

"You can't come onto this property," shouted Mrs. Mayberry, who stood guard with a shovel.

"I just have my job to do," explained Binford.

But when he started to cross the fence, a crowd of about 15 persons advised him against it and he went back to his car.

Mrs. Mayberry gave a newsman a copy of a proclamation she said Mrs. Clift had signed. It said in part: "...We hereby declare that we are no longer a part of the said United States and do declare ourselves to be hereby seceded and herein, and after, we will be known as Eneir (Irene spelled backwards, with the capital known as Iraep (Pearl spelled backwards). The boundaries are the same as those of several deeds registered in ... the county of Waller in the foreign land of Texas, U.S.A."

"The country of Eneir does hereby ask for membership in the United Nations."

Downed US Pilot Is Well Treated By North Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A U. S. pilot shot down by North Korean gunfire said today the Communists questioned him for seven days but did not treat him roughly.

Capt. Leon Pfeiffer of Kenosha, Wis., said about 50 North Korean soldiers captured him immediately after he parachuted onto the Red side of the Korean truce line on March 6. His P-46 Sabre jet was hit by Communist ground fire but he was not injured.

"While descending I was frightened by the continuing small arms firing in my vicinity," he said in a statement issued through the 8th Army.

"I was taken to a forward outpost and held for about three hours," he said, "then taken to a forward hospital where I was interrogated for seven days. On the seventh day I was given a haircut, shave and bath and during the night was driven to Kaesong."

He remained there until he was released yesterday to the United Nations Command.

Pfeiffer's plane veered over the Red side of the demilitarized zone while he and another pilot were on a training mission. The other plane escaped the ground fire.

'Have Ball ...'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nose cone of the Vanguard test rocket fired successfully by the Navy yesterday carried this stenciled message into outer space. "Have ball. Will orbit."

Newscaster Entertains Knife, Forkers

A chatty fellow with a sense of humor told a rambling tale of his contacts with people and their peculiarities in a talk before the Sedalia Knife and Fork Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Monday night. He was John Williams Hughes, a native of Wales, a popular British Broadcasting Co. newscaster and world traveler.

Hughes has been a frequent American visitor and has crossed the continent 42 times. He likes Americans and particularly the informality of those in Central Missouri. He encouraged the people of this country to maintain their cheerfulness and faith in the future because the whole world from the standpoint of international morale is sensitive to the responsiveness of Americans.

The dinner meeting began with invocation by the Rev. D. Warren Neal, Retiring President. B. E. Heacock introduced three new board members, Mrs. Frank Wagner, Brannan and J. C. Alexander; the secretary, Mrs. Bretha Welch; the second vice-president, Dr. J. Briggs Rice and the first vice-president, James E. Durley.

K. U. Love was then presented as the 1938 president and assumed his duties as presiding officer giving a short talk on club plans for the year.

He introduced the following new members: Thomas T. Keating, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Gardner and the Rev. and Mrs. Neal; also associate members, Miss Margaret O'Connell and Mrs. Clyde Heynen; and members of the reception committee, Mr. and Mrs. John Zulauf, Mr. and Mrs. John Snodgrass and Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan.

The president announced that the next meeting would be held Saturday, April 12, when the speaker will be Cy Radcliffe, Idaho business man, whose subject will be: "Uncle Sam's Parade."

Mr. Hughes was then introduced by George H. Scruton.

Snow Reported Along State's North Border

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A few snowflurries were reported along Missouri's northern border this morning and as far south as St. Joseph, but it was nothing like the full-blown storm which hit southern Missouri Monday.

Forecasters said some more snow is likely in southwest Missouri tonight, with scattered flurries in the southeast Wednesday.

West Plains had eight inches of snow on the ground this morning as the result of yesterday's storm. There was 6 at Springfield, 5 at Joplin, 4 at Farmington, 3 at Rolla and Malden and 1 inch at Butler.

Overnight temperatures ranged from a low of 12 at West Plains to 31 at Kansas City and most minimum readings were in the 20s. There had been little arming by 8 a.m. except in the St. Louis area.

Gas Explosion Causes Fiery Train Wreck

NORTH JUDSON, Ind. (AP)—A propane gas explosion touched off a fiery freight train wreck a half mile west of North Judson today without injury to the New York Central crew. Twenty-eight cars and the locomotive were derailed.

Because of intensely hot fire and danger of further explosions, Indiana state police kept spectators a mile from the scene. A nearby crossing of Indiana 10 west of North Judson was closed.

The diesel locomotive and the first 18 cars went off the single-track line when one of three cars loaded with propane gas exploded. Another car of gas caught fire, and the third blew up.

Ten freight cars near the end of the 64-car train also were derailed.

The cause of the explosion and resulting derailment was not determined.

Accidents

Damage resulted to two motor vehicles in collision in the 400 block on South Lamine about 9:50 a. m. Tuesday. No injuries were reported.

Involved was a 1936 Pontiac station wagon parked on Lamine, owned by Dean Binderup, 1818 West 11th, and a 1930 Studebaker sedan driven south on Lamine by Henry L. Smith, 637 East 11th.

According to the police report, Smith was parking and misjudged his distance and struck the left rear of the station wagon, damaging it and the right side of his own automobile.

Police Reports

T-Sgt. Henry Mitchell, Whiteman AFB, reported to the police his car was ransacked and three packages of cigarettes and the Tennessee title to his 1936 Ford car was stolen. The car was parked in front of his home, 2226 West Second.

Joe Martin, Hughesville, reported to the police for Arnold Brownfield, Hughesville that the aerial on Brown's 1949 Plymouth sedan was broken off while parked at Third and Kentucky.

Police were called to 1509 South Osage at 7:22 p. m. Monday on a report of a prowler. He was gone when police arrived.

J. L. Anderson, 1920 South Lamine, reported the loss of his truck license No. 581-593.

E. L. Hall, 2301 First Street Terrace, reported to the police that the glove compartment of his car was ransacked and two Conoco credit cards and other articles were stolen. The truck was parked in the backyard at his home, Monday night.

Before Rotary Club

Rev. Nolan Tells of Life About Irish and St. Patrick

The Rev. J. T. Nolan, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, was the speaker at Rotary Club Monday noon at Bothwell Hotel taking for his subject: "Wearing of the Green." This talk was both informative and appropriate, falling right on St. Patrick's Day. Father Nolan told many interesting things about Ireland, the Irish people and St. Patrick.

St. Patrick, Father Nolan told the group, lived through the 5th Century. The name Patrick was given him when he was 60 years old by Pope Celestine. St. Patrick was sold as a slave at the age of 16, went to Gaul, having heeded the voice of God, and studied in many colleges in Europe. At the age of 60 he was sent to Ireland by the Pope and, arriving in Ireland, he met with opposition from the king. After convincing the king of the importance of his mission by performing many miracles, he finally received permission to preach Christ's gospel through Ireland and strict orders were given by the king that he was not to be molested. Churches, schools and convents marked the saint's path, and at the end of his long life of 120 years he saw the entire country Catholic, Rev. Nolan said.

The speaker was introduced by William L. Kurtz, Jr.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, president, conducted the meeting, and invocation was given by the Rev. David M. Funk, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church. Singing was led by James T. Denny with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

The club sang three songs led by James Denny, "My Wild Irish Rose," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

A sextette from Sacred Heart School composed of Rose Moriarity, Carolyn Saenz, Martha Berlin, Rita Geiser, Carolyn Wiemholt and Gloria Robb, sang several Irish songs, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Paxton.

Guests presented by John Zulauf were: the Rev. David M. Funk, guest of Jess Brown; Carl Yessen, guest of Paul Hunnell; the Rev. Warren Terry, pastor of the Western Hills Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, guest of the Rev. Jess Wallace; student guests, Charles Robinson and Tommy Herrick, of Smith-Cotton High School; and Rotarian Ray Ascham, Findlay, O.

Roving Rotarians were: Don S. Lamm, Sr., Coral Gables, Fla.; Charlie Hofe, Chillicothe, and Warrensburg; Ray Lippard, Warrensburg; Jack Cunningham, Columbia; Harry Walsh, Warrensburg; and O. W. Wiley, Clinton.

Cannon Shells Strike Houses In Wisconsin

SHEBOYGAN FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Explosive cannon shells, whipped out of the sky last night, pelting streets and hammering in to at least three houses.

No one was injured, but residents of the area were warned to be on the lookout for any other shells which might be unexploded.

The blue-tipped projectiles were identified as shells from 20 mm. cannon mounted on American military aircraft.

Capt. Robert Dietz, Air Force information officer at Chicago's O'Hare Field, said he was informed the shells came from a B47 based at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio.

At Lockbourne AFB, Lt. Billy Baxter, an information officer, said the only Lockbourne plane over Wisconsin last night was an RB47 which did not have ammunition in its tail cannon, the only armament it carries.

The RB47 is a camera-equipped version of the six-jet B47 bomber. Lt. Baxter said the 28th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing had one RB47 flying in "that general direction," but he said it was not scheduled to arrive in this area until after the cannon fire occurred.

Projectiles pierced the roofs of the John Novotny house here, the home of Lloyd Theune at nearby Oostburg and the resident of Francis Deely, Sheboygan Falls.

Of Sheboygan Falls said one shell exploded about 20 yards ahead of his car on Highway 23.

Several ordinance were given final passage. One repealing an ordinance which prohibited the admission to the Bothwell and Hospital No. 2 persons with contagious or communicable diseases. It was brought out at the time the ordinance was introduced the Bothwell Hospital did not have means of handling such cases.

Other ordinances passed were for: placing of stop signs at the northeast and southwest corners of 11th and Barrett; repealing an ordinance for a sewer in District 133, the sewer having been laid under private contract; establishing of fire hydrants on the northeast corners of Broadway and Warren, Broadway and Carr, Southwest Blvd., and Plaza Dr.; and relocating a fire hydrant from 230 west of Beacon to the corner of Beacon and Broadway; passed an ordinance designating the polling places for the City election April 1, and naming of the election judges; accepting the improvements made, materials furnished and work done on lateral No. 1, in Sewer District 133.

Councilman Woodrow Garrison of the streets and alley committee asked the council to approve a blanket purchase of rock necessary to fill in holes of the city streets which resulted from the severe winter weather. Garrison explained that during the dry seasons we have had, and now followed by the wettest winter season in years, many of the streets have been damaged. He explained the reason for the blanket purchase is due to the fact that there is no way to know how much rock will be necessary to do this emergency work. The request was given unanimous approval.

Councilman Dr. Ira White called attention to a street light for 28th and Lafayette which was approved nearly a year ago. He stated the street has been improved in the area and the light is necessary at this time. It was authorized to have the light installed immediately.

The following liquor licenses were approved: Bruno Hagerman for Bruno's Pig Pen for 3.2 beer; George Stevens for liquor by the drink at the Main Street Bar; package sale for G. G. Bulkley for the Sedalia Drug Co.; and Mrs. A. L. Cunningham for 3.2 beer at 820 North Monticau.

A resolution to pave with a six inch rock base to be primed and seal coated of West Fifth from Limit to State Fair Blvd. was passed.

The resolution was passed accepting a deed from the Sedalia Industrial Development Co., by the Chamber of Commerce, of 50 feet of right-of-way from Highway 50 north along the east side of Lots 1 and 2 for the purpose of opening a public roadway.

Councilman C. L. Kelley placed on file a petition from property owners in the vicinity of West 20th near Monticau, complaining of property not in very good condition. Since the receiving of this petition, action has been taken by the owner to improve the conditions.

Councilman White also announced the four new Dodge police cars are now in service under a lease program.

Committees Are Appointed For Annual Car Wash

Mrs. Lloyd Parker was hostess to the Xi Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, March 13, with Mrs. Bill Padgett presiding over the meeting.

A certificate of appreciation from the Sedalia Heart Council was presented to the chapter for its work in the recent Heart Drive.

The following committee for the Car Wash which Xi Omega will hold at Gene's Car Wash soon was appointed: Dorothy Iuchs, general chairman, Connie Brummet and Jo Ann Moore, publicity; Ronnie Trotter and Margaret Ann Parker, work schedule; June Morgan, advance tickets; Betty Landon, office force.

After reading a portion of the Beta Sigma Phi manual, Mrs. James Durely gave the program on "Missouri's Form of Government."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Ed Bruns.

Says Planned Anthem Change Is Atheistic

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A California state senator says a proposed change in the "Star Spangled Banner," now before Congress, is atheistic.

Sen. Nelson Dilworth, a Republican, persuaded the Senate Rules Committee to adopt a resolution asking Congress to leave the national anthem in its "historic version."

"One proposal would change the word 'power' in the anthem from a capital to a small letter," he said. "In this case the word refers to God and to make it a small letter is atheistic."

Bilking Season Is Here..

Despite the wet blanket of snow Monday as a reminder that winter is still with us, Spring is on the threshold and will arrive in Sedalia at approximately 9:06 a.m. Thursday.

A sure sign of approaching Spring is the cautious appearance of skinny spiders after hibernation in dwellings and business houses. Another is renewed activity of door-to-door, fast talking salesmen, the bad check passers and other so-called city slickers using hip-padrome methods for turning a fast buck.

After all the publicity given accounts of swindling incidents, and warnings to check with the Chamber of Commerce when in doubt, it is utterly amazing the number of people who are hoodwinked into parting with their hard earned cash to a smooth talker.

Sedalia had a rash of this activity the past week judging from reported instances. Goodness knows how many went unreported by those shrinking from embarrassment.

The trouble some people can get themselves into by the persuasion of a complete stranger is as mystifying as the uncanny sense of the swindler that this is the season to move into our area.

If the deals these fellows put over were attempted by our local merchants there would be public clamour for a hanging. For every person who gets a bargain there are a dozen who are bilked by over charge or shabby goods, peddled by a stranger.

The pleasant personality who pockets Sedalians' cash and moves on to distant parts leaves a vacuum here. In contrast the local merchant who invests his capital has more to offer than a peddler can sell. He backs up his goods with a reputation of reliability, fairness, price and credit.

Something else to consider in resisting the fast-talking stranger is the return to the community a local man makes in wages, taxes and purchase of other services, including, perhaps some you have to offer him.

Of course, the bad check artist falls into a different category and is one of the worst for the gullible to resist. Nevertheless the effort should be made by a little more vigilance and attention to the business procedure which makes his operation successful in gyping the home town businessman.

Spring can be wonderful if you don't get hooked by a dishonest peddler or bilked by a bad check artist.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ike's In-Law Acquires Racing Stable

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — One of the interesting, hitherto undisclosed developments in the life of Col. Gordon Moore, the President's brother-in-law, is the prize Irish stallion on the Moores' week-end farm in the fox-hunting country of Northern Virginia. The stallion is Leslie Boy and is valued at $65,000.

Leslie Boy was either given or loaned to Col. Moore by the Clint Murchison racing stable. Murchison is one of the biggest oil and gas men in Texas and one of the leading advocates of a natural gas bill, which the President has publicly supported.

While it was known that Murchison has been on friendly terms with the White House, it was not known he was so friendly with the President's family as to give or loan a prize stallion to Col. Moore.

Leslie Boy was foaled in Ireland, sired by Royal Charger out of Badura by Colorado Kid. He was imported from England by the Murchison Stables, arriving in the United States on Oct. 29, 1954.

The Murchison Stables is the name given to the Murchison-Cain family stables, and Leslie Boy is registered in the name of Effie Marie Cain and Virginia Murchison. The latter is the wife of Clint Murchison, while Effie Cain is the wife of Wofford Cain, head of the Southern Union Gas Company, a Murchison subsidiary. Another partner in the stable is Billy Byars, an oilman of Tyler, Texas.

Efforts to reach Col. Moore, Mr. Byars, and members of the Murchison family were not successful. However, a spokesman for the Murchison interests said the horse was a loan. One employee working on the Col. Moore estate, however, described the stallion as a gift.

Jack Hall, overseer of Col. Moore's estate, refused to state how long the horse had been there or who the owner was. Asked if Col. Moore owned it, he replied: "I don't know. It's here."

"Was it a gift?" Mr. Hall was asked. "I don't know. It's here. That's all I know." The stallion has not raced because he got a nail in one foot.

Col. Moore also has seven mares on "Holiday Hills Farm," which is a well-painted establishment with white wooden fences, two tenant houses, a master's house, horse barn, shed, silo, and a large pond. The farm appears to be about 400 acres and shows signs of considerable investment. Residents of near-by Hillsboro, Va., said that the Moores had owned it for about five years and lived there week ends for about three years.

One of Col. Moore's horses, Holiday Admiral, was scratched at Bowie last week but is due to race again this week. Another horse, Holly High, was lost in a Charlestown Claiming race.

If Leslie Boy is a loan he could be a very profitable loan; for stud fees on thoroughbred stallions run high. The near-by Middleburg, Va., Chronicle, in a great horse center, advertises stallions with stud fees of from $3,000 to $5,000 per service.

Note: Shortly before Eisenhower entered the White House, Col. Moore was unemployed and was having difficulty meeting payments on his home. When Ike got nominated, Col. Moore got a job at $6,500 a year. After Ike was elected, Col. Moore's fortunes zoomed.

Ike Listens to Labor
AFL-CIO leaders were far from satisfied with the results of their publicized meeting with President Eisenhower. Two things irked them: Ike's insistence that economic conditions were not as critical as the labor chief contended, and a rather abrupt termination of the White House session.

After 35 minutes, Ike began shuffling some papers on his desk. The labor chiefs took the hint, though they had wanted to do some further sounding-out of the President's tax-reduction ideas. It was obvious, however, that Ike didn't want to be sounded out, particularly on tax legislation.

"I am concerned about the present economic situation," he said, "but I am not alarmed by it."

This was in direct reply to a statement by AFL-CIO President George Meany that the country was rapidly heading for a worse recession unless immediate steps are taken to head it off.

Eisenhower maintained the government was doing "everything possible" to stimulate business by public works and other measures. He added that he was not convinced, as the labor leaders maintained, that conditions would become progressively worse. He said he was counting on a pickup within the next few months. However, if there were no signs of an upturn within the next 30 days, he said, the government would consider some further measures.

Less Withholding Taxes Urged
"A tax reduction that would have the effect of immediately bringing down withholding taxes, to increase purchasing power, is the first and the most important step to be taken, in the opinion of labor," suggested George Meany.

David McDonald of the steel workers reported that 50 per cent of his members are either out of work or employed part time. Auto workers chief Walter Reuther added that auto production is down to 60 per cent of normal.

"Mr. President," said Reuther, "Do you realize that 900,000 new automobiles are in storage because people do not have the money to buy them?"

"I can't understand why that should be when there is more money in savings accounts than ever before," replied Ike. "Why aren't those people with savings accounts buying automobiles?"

His callers didn't answer. Later one of them explained to a friend: "We just stared at Ike when he let go with that one."

Misplaced Pessimism

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles seems bent on capturing honors as Mr. Pessimism of 1958.

First he sounded a gloomy note on the prospect of our beating the Russians to the moon. He conceded to a House committee that this would be a pretty spectacular achievement, bound to make impact on people everywhere.

Then he struck his second dark chord. He said we have to realize that despotic governments generally outdo the democracies in the realm of the spectacular. Look around at the things which attract attention in the world, he said, and you'll see this is so.

Is it really?

Has Mr. Dulles never heard of Paris, that dazzling monument to the free spirit? What matters there are not the bridges and statues and tombs. What counts is that it breathes with life — gay, imaginative, unpredictable.

And what of the United States itself? Whether it is liked or disliked, it is beyond all doubt the greatest magnet of attention on earth. Its pulse, its prodigious energies, its sweep of achievement, these make the tired stones, the forced accomplishments and the bloodless pace of the tyrannies a sorry attraction by contrast.

Her first book, written with Cornelia Otis Skinner, was "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," a recollection of their trip to Europe. Her best-selling "Forty Plus and Fancy Free" was published in 1954.

By Emily Kimbrough

A few weeks ago I went by train from Chicago to Los Angeles. At the end of the line a porter came into my bedroom and said apologetically, "Excuse me, Madam, but all the other passengers have left and the train is going out to the yards." With reluctance and some irritation because I was still a few pages from the end I closed my copy of "By Love Possessed." I had not realized we had reached Los Angeles. I was not aware the train had stopped.

Last Christmas my household included—for the holidays my year-old grandson left in my care while his parents were abroad, and the baby's grandmother, my stepmother. During their stay I gave my annual Christmas carol party.

This occasions a violent disrupting of my apartment. Caterers move in and furniture is moved out to be replaced by rows of folding chairs. At the start of this eruption my stepmother asked how she could best help. "Mind the baby," I told her and went about my business.

I paid no further attention for some hours. What drew my attention then was not an outcry from either of them but their conspicuous position within the range of view of anyone entering the room in which the singers would later gather. It is a large room, 100 people sing carols in it at my party but at the moment of my observance it was occupied by only two.

There was no furniture except a chair on which my stepmother sat and a canvas seat that hung between two supports. The baby in it was sound asleep, rocking in the canvas chair gently propelled by the foot of his grandmother. She did not know she was pushing the swing, that the baby was asleep, that all the furniture had been taken out of the room, nor that the caterers were noisily unpacking china in the kitchen. She was reading "The Nun's Story."

The first step that I took out of the world by this blissful transportation was made when I was 11. My family some months before had moved to Chicago from the town in Indiana where I was born. As solace for a lonely little girl in a strange and big city my mother had persuaded the parents of two of my friends from home to allow them to visit me. I was very nearly hysterical with excitement at their coming.

Unfortunately for everyone but me, on the day before, I brought home from the library, "The Jungle Book." Until I began the story of the wolf's council about the acceptance of Mowgli into the pack I had wanted more than anything in the world to see my friends, but from the instant Mowgli was taken in, my friends were pushed out. I not only did not care, I scarcely knew they were there and no amount of parental dismay or threats penetrated my unawareness.

I do not know of any other experience that can effect such total detachment from one's immediate surroundings; the theater perhaps, and yet that provides its own interruptions with the lowering of a curtain at the end of an act.

Each book that one reads does not, of course, effect this swift, intoxicating passage through and beyond time and place; every introduction of one stranger to another does not effect a love affair. But when a book and reader meet and do fall in love, they do not fall out as long as the reader lives.

Dr. Jordan Says

Uremia Is Failure of Body To Eliminate Toxic Wastes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
H. F. asks for a discussion of uremia, from which he says he is a sufferer.

This term, or "uremic poisoning," is used to describe a condition in which waste materials are accumulated in the blood and body tissues because of the failure to eliminate them normally through the kidneys.

Usually uremia is the result of some kind of kidney failure, such as a long-lasting Bright's disease or nephritis. Occasionally it results from shock, severe loss of fluid from the body as in long-continued vomiting or watery diarrhea, or from some other unusual condition.

A diagnosis can be made only after the blood has been examined chemically to find out whether the poisonous substances are actually increased there. This chemical examination of the blood also helps to decide what treatment to use and what the outcome is likely to be.

Tests of the urine and careful examinations of the functioning of the kidneys are also necessary before a complete diagnosis can be made and proper treatment started.

The symptoms cannot be easily described. A vague "toxic" condition is the rule. Uremia usually develops slowly, however. Victims of uremia are especially susceptible to infections.

Treatment depends on what is preventing the elimination of poisonous wastes and how far it has progressed.

The best time to attack uremia, of course, is long before the uremia has developed. If the Bright's disease or other cause of uremia can be prevented the condition will not develop.

Some cases of Bright's disease leading eventually to uremia are the result of acute infections, such as pneumonia or scarlet fever. Hence prompt attack on such infections by sulfa drugs or antibiotics ought to prevent some cases from developing at all. Uremia is really a late complication resulting from one of several disorders and is not a disease of itself.

In recent years many studies have been made of mechanical devices going under the name of "artificial kidney."

Several kinds of apparatus have been employed, but they all have the purpose of removing from the blood those toxic or poisonous substances which have accumulated there because of the failure of the kidneys to remove them.

Quite remarkable results have sometimes been accomplished by this means of treatment. They have been used also for certain kinds of poisoning with such substances as barbiturates, bromide or salicylates.

They cannot, of course, be considered as substitutes for a normally functioning kidney, but their development has proved a real boon for some critically ill patients.

Missouri Farmers Hurt

Administration Inefficiency Is Blamed By Symington

By Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Both the two big cities of Missouri . . . Kansas City and St. Louis . . . and the rural areas are "hurting" from the economic slump, said Senator Stuart Symington (D. Mo.) in an interview.

Unemployment figures have jumped in the cities and the prices the farmers are getting for their products are not high enough to offset the increases in the cost of the things they must buy.

To the accusation of the Republicans that the only answer the Democrats have to ease the farm situation is "to fire Benson," the Missouri Democrat remarked that the failure of the GOP administration policy is not merely "the percentage of parity" but had administration of farm legislation!

Symington added "when Ezra Benson was appointed Secretary of Agriculture he was going to clean up the department, but instead of 63,000 people on the payroll he now has 87,000 employees, while the number of farmers has been reduced by 20 per cent."

To the senator, who has held several top executive posts inside and outside government, much money could be saved by more efficient operation within the Agriculture department.

This is important to Missouri, where two-thirds of the people outside the two big cities are reliant on farm income. In fact, while the state is the 19th as to over-all income, it is 6th state in farm income.

As to the recession-hit cities, Kansas City hasn't forgotten the 1930 flood, which cost nearly a billion dollars in damage. So any cutting back on flood control, or other constructive and job-making projects, seems faulty because there will be less revenue in taxes if more and more people are out of a job.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.

Life expectancy has been extended by many years with scientific development. Health-giving diets, vitamins, sanitation and medical discoveries have prolonged the life span. We can now expect to live 20 or 30 years longer than our recent ancestors.

Are we using this longer life for the benefit of selfish desires? Somehow it seems futile to extend life while developing more tragic means of taking life. The bow and arrow, the sword and spear endangered young men who dared take up the deadly arms many years ago. Guns increased the possibility of violent death.

Atom bombs endanger millions of young folk and old alike who have never thought of fighting nor of killing people. The non-belligerents will increasingly become involved in future conflicts.

We should all do well to use the extra years of our lives to extend the kingdom of God. The world needs more love, more kindness, more forgiveness. We need more friendship and less of sin and less of destruction. We have some extra years. Let us use them well!

David had a turtle and he wanted to sell him for 50 cents. Soon the word got around to the neighborhood children that David wanted to sell his turtle.

Then came a knock at the door and a small neighbor boy was there wanting to buy the turtle. When David told him he wanted 50 cents for his turtle the youngster looked up at him earnestly and said: "I don't have 50 cents."

But he wanted the turtle so bad and for a minute there was silence then the little boy had a thought and he asked eagerly: "Could I rent him for 3 cents an hour?" —H. L.

WASHINGTON GAZETTE (March 18, 1957):

"Oh, that men should put an enemy in their mouths,
To steal away their brains!"
Shakespeare

Of all the various vices which stain the character of the present age, there is none more mean, and at the same time more commonly practised than Drunkenness; consequently, none more deserving of censure. To see a man at once rob himself of all the engaging qualities of the mind, and make himself worse than a beast, is a sight that every virtuous man will turn from with pity and contempt. Is it not surprising that men, who, when sober, are agreeable companions, and useful members of society, will by the inordinate use of strong drink, make themselves contemptible, and their families miserable?

Do we not too often see an agreeable wife, a virtuous son, and an amiable daughter, rendered unhappy by the intemperance of a husband or a father? Have we not seen too many aged parents "brought with sorrow to their graves," by the intemperance of their children? These are questions, that for the honour of my country, I wish could be negatively answered. — Reprinted in the George-towner (D. C.)

Gerbes Adopts Super Market Retiring Plan

Frank J. Gerbes, president of Gerbes Super Markets, Inc., with home offices in Tipton, Sunday announced a profit-sharing and retirement plan for company employees at a dinner at Versailles. The affair was attended by about 100 persons, including market personnel and their wives. The corporation operates supermarkets in Tipton, Versailles, Eldon, Camdenton, Holden and Windsor.

After Abe Silverman, district manager for New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., Sedalia, whose company is to underwrite the plan and will install and administer it, had explained the profit-sharing and retirement plan, Gerbes had this to say:

"This plan is founded on the conviction that the company is not an impersonal thing, but is an organization composed of individuals working together to achieve a successful and profitable result. The company recognizes that profits result from many factors, including the relations with and confidence of customers, suppliers and employees, and that the attitudes, responsibility and efficiency of individual employees and their thriftiness, intelligence, loyalty and cooperation determine in a large measure the success of the enterprise."

The plan will include all employees who have been with the company six months or more and their benefits upon retirement will be based on length of service and amount of earnings during the time each individual was covered by the plan. The new arrangement becomes effective this year.

Among the visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheehan and Mr. and Mrs. Ney Wingo, all of Swift & Co.; Bill Deuel, of the AG organization, and Mrs. Deuel; Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Otten, Versailles; and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Silverman of Sedalia.

Representing the Fidler Produce Co. of Kansas City were Amos Ledbetter and Curtiss Watkins, and their wives.

Those present from the home office of Gerbes Super Markets, Inc., in Tipton were Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gerbes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Imhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Steinhauer and Mr. and Mrs. David Wolf.

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist University has been asked to cancel the appearance of a former Communist editor.

John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker prior to its suspension, was scheduled to speak April 23. He was invited by the Student Forum Committee.

The Public Affairs Luncheon Club passed a resolution asking the student governing board "not to permit the prestige of a great Christian university to be used to dignify and promote a self-acknowledged atheist and unregenerate follower of the Communist line."

SMU President Willis Tate said he would delay comment until the letters are received.

Garden Club News

Animal Survival Explained By Conservation Educator

A joint meeting of the nine Sedalia Garden Clubs was held Friday afternoon at the First Christian Church, at which time Jack Reed, of Warrensburg, conservation education advisor for west central Missouri, addressed the group.

Reed said he liked to see people interested in living things and he urged the members of the Garden Clubs to think of all of the state and all of the county as their garden, for in these are the forest and growing things.

"Did you ever wonder about birds and various things in the forest?" he asked. "Did you ever wonder at the intricate system to help us carry out our own survival?"

The law of nature, said Reed, is the survival of the fittest and the strongest and healthiest survive. There are three words to remember, he stressed—predator, predation and prey. The predator catches other animals in order to survive; predation is the act of doing; and the prey is the animal that reproduces so fast that something must be done or it would over run everything so it becomes the prey. The prey of the forest are most often the rodents, he said, and this includes rabbits, rats, mice, and many of the animals. They are the gnawing type of animal.

Reed pointed out that we should not be against animals that live off of other animals, for man is the greatest predator of all. While man, today, is mostly free from the threat of wild animals, the law of nature is eat or be eaten.

He then showed a very interesting film, "Way of Life" in which the various kinds of animals in their roles as predator or prey were shown.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. W. Boger, conservation chairman.

Mrs. P. L. Strole, council president, opened the meeting with a prayer, after which the group sang "In the Garden."

Mrs. A. H. Bratten sang "And Where a Garden Grows," with Mrs. E. F. Yancey as accompanist.

Mrs. Strole talked briefly and expressed appreciation that so many Garden Club members attended the meeting. "We are all working for the same purpose," she said, "to spread beauty around us."

One of the activities of the Garden Club members, Mrs. Strole pointed out, is planting dogwood trees in their yards. A number of members already have dog-

Little League Cards Out For Signing

Little League registering cards were distributed to the boys in the public schools Monday to take home for their parents to sign, giving permission for the boys to take part in the 1938 program. These cards must be filled out, signed, and returned to the schools not later than next Monday.

It is necessary, President Ralph Hamlin announced, to have the registration cards signed and filled out each year. Each Little Leaguer must have the annual permission and not only that, but take his annual physical before he can be assigned to a division.

The League is for boys eight years old through 12. Boys who do not become 13 until after August 1 can sign and play the season. If he is 13 on or before August 13, he will not be eligible to participate.

Physical examinations are to be held at the National Guard Armory on Saturday, April 5, starting at 9 a. m.

The necessity to get the cards in by next Monday is to give League officers time to sort them into age groups then into teams. This must be done before the physicals are to be given.

It has been announced the Park Board is giving Housel Park to Little League for use this summer for the A and B teams. These games will be played under the same conditions as the regular Major Leagues, under lights, teams uniformed out and everything.

Tryouts will start and practice will be held through the latter part of April and in May. The season gets underway on the night of Sunday, June 1.

League officials anticipate at least 600 youngsters will be taking part in the program this year. In 1937 nearly 400 boys were registered and played.

IBC Promoter Gets Another Court Chance

By JOHN H. AVERILL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Promoter James D. Norris is getting another chance to fight a court order that spells death for his International Boxing Club as one of history's most fabulous ring empires.

The Supreme Court agreed yesterday to review a lower court ruling that the IBC be dissolved on grounds it monopolized championship bouts in violation of the antitrust laws.

For Norris, IBC's president, the high court's action means at the least a reprieve of many months. Because of a crowded calendar, the court is not expected to hear the IBC appeal until next fall at the earliest. More months could pass before a ruling is announced. Meantime, the lower court's ruling, issued last year in New York, has been suspended.

The ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan applied specifically to the International Boxing clubs of New York and Illinois; Norris and Arthur W. Wirtz, principal IBC officers; and Madison Square Garden.

Ryan ruled that the defendants created an illegal monopoly in the promotion of title fights from 1949 to 1953. To break up the monopoly he ordered that:

1. The clubs be dissolved.
2. Norris and Wirtz, an IBC director, sell their stock in the Garden corporation and resign as Garden officers.
3. Norris and Wirtz be barred from contracting for the exclusive services of individual fighters.

4. The Garden be limited to two championship bouts annually for the next five years. This also affected Chicago Stadium, which Norris and Wirtz own.

Both Dayton, Bradley Make Debut Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Dayton and Bradley, the two basketball teams considered most likely to succeed, make their debuts in the National Invitation Tournament tonight against two outsiders bent on revenge.

Top-seeded Dayton (23-3) plays Fordham, (15-8), and Bradley, (20-6), the defending champion and No. 2 seed, bumps into Xavier of Ohio (16-11) in quarterfinals at Madison Square Garden. The Bradley-Xavier winner will meet St. Bonaventure and the Dayton-Fordham survivor will face St. John's of New York in Thursday's semifinals.

The Fordham Rams absorbed their worst cuffing of the season (63-35) from Dayton Dec. 19. Last year, Bradley swept past Xavier 116-81 and set tournament records for total points for a game and for a half (72) during their climb to the NIT title. Xavier never has beaten Bradley in three meetings between the schools.

Fordham, an 83-59 winner over St. Francis (Pa.) in a first-round game Saturday, has impressed both its coach, Johnny Bach, and Dayton's coach, Tom Blackburn, with its improvement.

"That earlier loss to Dayton was the only real bad beating we took this year," said Bach. "But if we can play like we did Saturday, we'll give them a good game. I waited two years to see this club look like it did Saturday."

Blackburn echoed Bach's sentiments. "Fordham has improved very much," he said. "The way they looked against St. Francis, they could knock off any team in the country."

Xavier shook off an atrocious start to whip Niagara 95-96 in a first-round thriller Saturday.

Jack Littrell May Switch To Pitching

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Jack Littrell of the Chicago Cubs, who has played with 11 different baseball clubs in the minor and major leagues in 10 years, may be the latest to make the big switch from an infielder to a pitcher.

Littrell, no man to be feared by opposing pitchers as his 190 batting average in 61 games with the Cubs last year will attest, won his second Cactus League decision yesterday when Chicago defeated the Baltimore Orioles 5-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The 29-year-old native of Louisville, Ky., pitched two innings and allowed two hits and one run. The Cubs won it on a three-run homer by Walt Moryn with two out in the seventh inning. The game was limited to seven innings by agreement, since the Cleveland Indians defeated the San Francisco Giants 9-6 in the opener of the benefit double-header.

Cleveland slammed rookie Ernie Broglio for five hits and six runs in the second inning—one a two-run triple by Earl Averill. Frank Thomas hit two homers for Pittsburgh at Fort Myers, Fla., but the Chicago White Sox defeated the Pirates 7-4. Chicago got four runs in the fourth inning with the help of two wild pitches, two walks and an error. Vernon Law pitched five innings and gave up all the White Sox runs.

Richie Ashburn hit a double and three singles as the Philadelphia Phillies pounded Herman Wehmeier, Bob Miller and Bill Smith for 15 hits in a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Washington Senators 9-6 at Orlando, Fla. Frank Robinson drove in six runs on a pair of homers, a single and sacrifice fly. Steve Bilko also homered for Cincinnati.

The Milwaukee Braves belted Bob Turley of the New York Yankees for five runs, four on Wes Covington's grand-slam homer, in the first inning at Bradenton, Fla. Joe Adcock also homered in the inning. But the Yankees, breaking out with their lustiest batting surge of the spring, rallied for a 15-8 victory. Mickey Mantle, Andy Carey and Hank Bauer hit homers as the Yankees won their fourth straight.

Fall Spikes Auto Team To Victory Over Marshall

Western Auto, with Jim Fall pouring in 29 points, scored an 85-72 victory over Marshall's independent basketball aggregation Monday night on the Marshall court.

Lagging 21-12 at the end of the first quarter, Western Auto stormed back in the second frame with 29 points for a 41-40 halftime lead. The locals continued their scoring rampage in the third period and held a comfortable 69-57 lead at the end of three quarters, then coasted to victory in the final period.

Bill Morgan and Bill Hodges backed up Fall with 19 and 18 points, respectively and Harper led Marshall's offense with 26 points.

Philly Warriors Meet Nationals at Syracuse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Warriors meet the Nationals tonight at Syracuse in the deciding game of their National Basketball Assn. Eastern Division first round best-of-3 playoff series.

The Nats won the opener at Syracuse Saturday night 86-82 and the Warriors bounced back with a 95-93 victory at Philadelphia Sunday night.

The winner meets the defending champion Celtics in the opener of a best-of-7 series in Boston Wednesday.

The Detroit Pistons begin their best-of-7 semifinal series with the Hawks at St. Louis Wednesday night. The Pistons eliminated the Cincinnati Royals in two straight games in their first round Western Division playoff.

Robinson Tries Next Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who dons and doffs the mid-dewlight crown about as often as the next guy buys a hat, comes to Chicago today for next Tuesday's fight against champion Carmen Basilio.

Robinson will be seeking to win the middleweight championship a fifth time in what is expected to be a record indoor gate.

The International Boxing Club says there will be a near capacity of 23,000 in Chicago Stadium with a gate of more than $500,000 for the rematch of a 15-rounder at New York last fall when Basilio lifted Robinson's title.

The indoor record of $422,918 by Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano in Chicago Stadium doesn't appear to have a chance to stand. Over $200,000 already is in the till. There will be some $300,000 from

Logart, Akins Claim Either Can Beat Vince

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight tournament semifinalists Isaac (Whip) Logart of Cuba and Virgil (Honey Bear) Akins of St. Louis are agreed on one thing—either one of them will beat Vince Martinez for the vacant boxing championship.

After that they disagree, especially on the outcome of their 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night. The winner has to meet Martinez, of Paterson, N.J., within 90 days for the championship vacated by Carmen Basilio.

Akins and Logart fought each other twice in 1955. The St. Louis veteran, now 30, won the first fight by split decision. Logart, now 24, captured the second by a good margin.

Here's the way they size up each other and Martinez: Akins: "I've watched Logart fight on television since I fought him and he's not as good as he was. He was real shifty. Now he's slowed down considerably."

"As for Martinez, he'll be scared to death when he gets in there (with Akins). Either one of us will beat him."

Logart: "So he says I've slowed up? He's in for a big surprise. I think he's slowed up plenty."

theater television plus $30,000 from radio.

Basilio, who won on a close decision over Robinson last September, said on his arrival: "I know what to expect from Robinson and he knows what to expect from me."

The 30-year-old champion said he weighs about 153½, about the same as the last time he fought Robinson, and will stick mainly to road work in final preparations. His boxing will consist of three rounds a day.

Robinson, who like Basilio is a former welterweight champion, won the middleweight title in Chicago Stadium from Jake LaMotta on Feb. 14, 1951. He lost it to Randy Turpin in London, England, on July 10, 1951, and regained it from Turpin with a 10-round knock out on Sept. 12, 1951.

Sugar Ray, who claims he will be 37 May 3 although the record book says 38, tried for the light heavyweight championship in 1952 but lost in 14 rounds to Joey Maxim. Six months later he announced his retirement.

Early in 1955 he started a comeback and on Dec. 9 of that year he won back the middleweight championship when he kayoed Bob Olson in two rounds in Chicago Stadium.

Gene Fullmer won a 15-round decision and the title from Robinson in January, 1957, but Sugar Ray came back four months later and knocked out Fullmer in five rounds—that, too, was in Chicago Stadium.

Win a great new Studebaker SCOTSMAN

(AND WIN ONE FOR YOUR FAVORITE CHARITY OR ORGANIZATION, TOO)
OR ONE OF 21 ADDITIONAL PRIZES

Fleet of SCOTSMAN cars to be awarded in nationwide SCOTSMAN Mile-A-Thon contest!

You can win a handsome, full-sized Studebaker Scotsman for your very own—and one for your favorite charity or organization. It's all part of the nationwide Scotsman Mile-A-Thon Contest, March 16 to April 12. And it's easy—just three simple answers may bring you home a winner. And look at the prizes:

- 1st Grand Prize 2 Scotsman Station Wagons
2nd Grand Prize 2 Scotsman 4-door Sedans
3rd Grand Prize 2 Scotsman 2-door Sedans
4th Grand Prize 2 Scotsman ½-ton Pickups

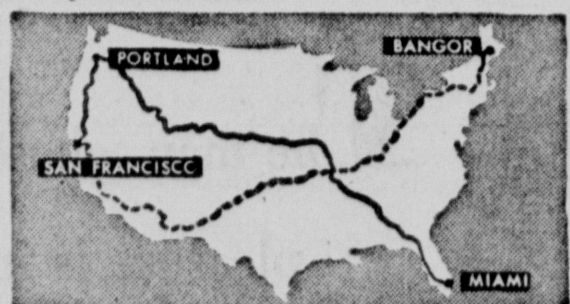

Winners get two cars: to make the contest even more inviting, each Grand Prize Winner will receive not just one, but two cars—one for yourself, one for your favorite charity or organization. And, if you've purchased a Studebaker or Packard during the contest, you'll receive your choice of the prize car or its retail delivered price in cash; your selected charity or organization will still receive the car.

All you do is estimate the highest miles per gallon figure attained by the Scotsman 2-door Sedan, and by the Scotsman Pickups, and then complete this sentence in 25 words or less—"Studebaker Scotsman passenger cars and pickup trucks are America's all-around economy vehicles because—"

To help you, a map shows the approximate routes of the two Scotsman Mile-A-Thon caravans. Your official Scotsman Mile-A-Thon Contest entry blank, and a detailed set of contest rules, are yours for the asking from your local Studebaker-Packard dealer or they are available by mail. He'll be glad to give you complete information about the Scotsman (a guest-drive, too) that will help you with your answer. No purchase required. Visit your dealer soon.

Here's how the SCOTSMAN Mile-A-Thon will run:

Two caravans, each consisting of a Scotsman 2-door Sedan and the all-new Scotsman ½-ton Pickup, will crisscross the country to form an "X" on the map. All you do is estimate the highest miles per gallon figure attained by both types of Scotsman vehicles participating, and complete the required 25-word statement. And, that's all you do! This contest is not open to any person residing in any locality where such contest is not permitted under applicable state or local regulations. Get your official entry blank and contest rules from your Studebaker-Packard dealer!

How Will ICBM Affect Internationalism?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This country became fully international after being yanked out of isolationism by World War II. But what happens when it develops the ICBM—the intercontinental ballistic missile?

This is something not being talked about much now, and perhaps not even being thought about much. But it seems inevitable that isolationist pressure will increase when the ICBM makes this country less dependent on its allies.

This country, with hydrogen-loaded ICBMs, could stand behind the walls of the Atlantic and Pacific and hit an enemy anywhere overseas.

It was only eight years ago that former President Hoover said America's defense lines should be the Atlantic and Pacific and he urged concentration on building a big navy and air force.

Whether any real isolationism could prevail again in this country is questionable because it might mean the loss of the non-Communist world to the Soviets. That in turn might make it impossible for this country to survive alone.

Since World War II—under both the Democratic and Republican administrations—the United States not only has taken on worldwide responsibilities in the form of foreign aid but has formed military alliances around the world.

Neither the aid nor the alliance program is unselfish. The aid, in addition to its humanitarianism, is part of this country's effort to keep the non-Communist part of the world away from communism. The same for the military alliances which are this country's first line of defense.

For these first 13 postwar years the aid and alliances have worked pretty well to hold the Soviets in check. In the next five years, by the time this country has a supply of ICBMs, the picture may change.

For example, it's changing in the Middle East, where the Russians have made progress and there is a developing hostility to the United States.

Right now, before this country has ICBMs, overseas bases for American planes are necessary: the planes could hit the U.S.S.R. from all directions if the Soviets began an attack.

Those bases would become less necessary as this country's supply of ICBMs grew. There certainly would be pressure here for the sake of economy—to rely more on the ICBMs and less on the bases.

Just how much weakening of American alliances would result from abandonment of the overseas bases remains to be seen. Trying to force us to abandon these bases is one of the Soviets' primary goals now.

There is a balancing factor: there might not be any lessening of America's internationalism when both the United States and the Soviet Union had ICBMs. It could result in the same kind of standoff we're looking at now when the main reliance of both countries is still on their air forces.

Neither, when both are equipped with ICBMs, would be eager to start a war that meant destruction for both. These questions could be argued on both sides endlessly. They probably will be in the new ICBM age that's coming.

Dr. D. S. Selengut, a member of the ANPD team, said availability of a critical assembly for study of radiation characteristics and a large-scale computer have speeded up work on the aircraft propulsion design.

He said development of such high-performance propulsion systems in other fields has taken 20 to 30 years, but that he feels a safe, practical atomic aircraft engine will be blueprinted in a fraction of that time.

Principal problems to overcome include weight, nuclear shield, high power, materials, reactor time lags, simple controls and easy ground handling.

The project has concentrated on the direct air cycle reactor—that is, one superheating air directly, in the non-iston-type engine—turbojet, ram jet or turbo prop.

Other team members reporting the project were F. A. Aschenbrenner, Thomas Szekely, G. E. Gorker and John Moteff.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles returns today from a 10-day Far Eastern trip, facing a mounting Soviet campaign for a space-age summit conference.

Officials clearly are looking to Dulles for guidance on how to offset propaganda gains they say Moscow registered over the weekend with a surprise proposal for a United Nations outer space agency.

Senate Democrats, led by Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), denounced the administration for what they called allowing the Soviets to steal a propaganda march on the United States with the outer space proposal.

Johnson called for an American proposal for a United Nations outer space agency, stripped of the Soviet demand this be coupled with liquidation of all overseas American bases.

President Eisenhower already has proposed, in a letter to Soviet Premier Bulganin last Jan. 12, an agreement to limit use of outer space to peaceful purposes. He did not at that time propose U.N. action.

Dulles' major advice to President Eisenhower in the pre-summit conference jockeying, officials said, will be for Eisenhower to continue to insist on the need for solid diplomatic preparations, including perhaps a foreign ministers meeting, before any parley with Soviet leaders.

TV-Educated Pupil Taught In Experiment

By CHARLES MERCER
NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—In New York you hear many fine theories about using television for education. In Norfolk a commercial successful station has been making educational TV a fact for many months.

Each week day station WVEC-TV offers 2 1/2 hours of forthright, gimmick-free educational programming. It is directed primarily to classroom students. The public can tune in too—and does.

It began last September after the Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education made a grant of $56,000, which was matched by the Norfolk public schools system, to use television for teaching students in nine large city schools.

Thomas P. Chisman, young and energetic president of the Peninsula Broadcasting Corp., offered two hours of WVEC-TV daily air time—time spots worth thousands of dollars. The station charges only $400 a month to cover the cost of image orthicon tubes, the principal tube in TV cameras.

"We had those two hours free from our network commitments as an NBC affiliate," Chisman says. "And I've always believed that television has a greater potential than only entertainment. What good is a theory if you never put it into practice? So we did."

WVEC-TV has been telecasting geometry, American history, Virginia history and elementary science taught by four public school teachers. Students in groups numbering from 250 to 300 at a time are studying these television-taught subjects.

"At the end of four months," says Chisman, "the school system found that television geometry students were ahead of non-television geometry students. And in all courses it was found that there are no disciplinary problems in television-taught classes. Even the record for tardiness was a way down."

Last month WVEC-TV began offering college credit courses by the College of William and Mary in music appreciation, literature and world geography. Mail indicates that numerous viewers who do not seek credits watch the program from 6 to 6:30 p.m.

Meets With Governors

Ike Will Explain Proposal On Jobless Payment Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will discuss with a group of state governors tomorrow his proposal for an extended jobless payment plan before he sends it to Congress.

It was reported the plan may entail lending federal money to the states to pay unemployment compensation benefits for a maximum 39 weeks, instead of the 26 weeks most presently pay, plus a form of relief or dole for idle workers not covered by the UC system.

The plan still is subject to change, and reportedly is encountering some opposition within the administration. Some legal problems also remain.

The whole idea is to prevent suffering for want of food or shelter among those who are still unemployed after their regular UC payments run out.

The plan was counted officially at 5,173,000 in mid-February. From all indications their number has continued growing since then.

Eisenhower announced March 8 that he was working on a plan to pay extended unemployment benefits. Yesterday he wired the nine members of the Governors' Conference executive committee that he would like to advise and counsel with them tomorrow on "a tentative plan."

He said it involves a "limited and temporary extension of the duration of unemployment compensation benefits." The amount of weekly benefits apparently would remain the same as the states now pay. These vary widely, but the national average is about $30 a week. States now fix their own limits on amount and duration of payments.

The invited governors include Stratton, Illinois; Davis, North Dakota; Faubus, Arkansas;

Hodges, North Carolina; Johnson, Vermont; Knight, California; Muskie, Maine; Rosellini, Washington, and Timmerman, South Carolina. Most indicated they would attend, but Gov. Timmerman said he was ill with flu.

The present UC program is financed by a federal payroll tax paid mainly by employers. The federal government retains a small percentage to pay its administrative costs and allots the remainder to separate funds from which the states pay the actual benefits.

It was reported those drafting the administration plan have considered raising that part of the tax going to the federal government. This would repay eventually money to be advanced to the states to extend UC benefits.

States now pay veterans jobless payments benefits and later are reimbursed with federal funds. Inasmuch as nearly two million of the five million unemployed are

Father of H-Bomb Says US Is Lagging

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, who has been called the father of the H-bomb, last night called Americans "scandalously undereducated in science."

"Unless Americans accept the challenges of today," the scientist-lecturer said in a lecture, the world will become a vast Soviet satellite and within 10 years the Soviet Union will be scientifically supreme.

"Thanks to our education today," he declared, "we shall develop the best football players in the world — for whatever good that does us."

He urged science education in the first grade, commenting that there are more educated youngsters in the Soviet Union than in this country.

Tricky Nicky Escapes As Worker Opens Cage

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Tricky Nicky, the Barbary ape, arrived from Norfolk yesterday and the welcoming committee soon included the police commissioner, 12 cops, a squad of firemen and a couple of aerial trucks.

For tricky Nicky had escaped again the instant an unwary Railroad Express employee opened his cage. Traffic had to be blocked off in the downtown area before he was caught.

Destined for the Memphis Zoo, Nicky was collared by a policeman as he was walking up the side of a hotel. The officer put the arm on him by reaching through a third floor window.

Nicky was given the zoo by the British admiral in command of Gibraltar.

Green Dyed Hair Causes Uproar

BALTIMORE (AP)—There was a riot of excitement at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Nevertheless he said he wished for a shillelagh to use on some day. What was worse, he found no Irish support from the two school officials he talked to.

The principal has the French name of Miss Dorothy Duvall and Miller observed she "obviously isn't Irish." The assistant school superintendent, who also heard some Miller fireworks has the Dutch name of Thomas Van Sant.

City school Supt. John H. Fisher had the last word: Miss Duvall "exercised the best kind of judgment" in the case because "the green hair was calculated to attract attention and would interfere with instruction."

An Aromatic Excuse

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A prospective journeyman who said he had an asthmatic condition and felt it might be aggravated by the courtroom air asked to be excused in Federal District Court.

Judge Bryan Simpson explained the courtroom is air-conditioned, the air is filtered and it should be soothing.

"By the way," asked the judge, "where do you work?"

"In a fertilizer factory, your honor," the man replied.

Easter Seals Discussed

Scope of Assistance To Crippled Is Told

Roy W. Davidson, Jefferson City, of the Missouri Crippled Children and Adults Society, addressed the newly re-organized Pettis County Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., Wednesday at a luncheon meeting at the Bothwell Hotel Palm Room.

This organization provides transportation for crippled children and adults, too, to Mercy Hospital in Kansas City or to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Columbia, as well as other needs and services, and for many years had as its general chairman, Mrs. J. C. Connor. After Mrs. Connor's death a meeting was held to re-organize, and Miss Roseanne Dugan was elected general chairman until the end of the fiscal year in September.

Davidson pointed out that the function of the Crippled Children and Adults Society is to enable handicapped people to do better for themselves. It provides, in co-operation with other agencies, a service to rehabilitate these people if they are qualified for state service. It is a tremendous program, he said, for it is not only in this county and this state but across the nation, in 29 foreign countries and four territories of the United States. New problems are constantly coming up, new services are being added as well as new operations.

Most of the funds from the Easter Seal sale, which will be launched very soon, remains in Pettis County. Ten per cent will go for research, and $500 will go to the state organization, which provides many needs and services to handicapped people over the state. The remainder of the funds goes for the many services and needs for children and others of the county who cannot afford to take care of themselves.

Davidson told the group that the better organized it is, the more it will receive. There are constantly bequests or trusts being given to the Crippled Children Society. He stressed, too, the importance of always keeping faith with the public and carrying out to the fullest any promises made. The meeting was presided over by Miss Dugan. John C. McCloskey, Easter Seal chairman, announced that he felt that the sale of seals would bring in about $3,000.

Pettis County Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., was one of the three organizations which combined to start the Crippled Children's Center here, and contributes $100 a month to the center. The other two organizations are the Pettis County Polio Association and the Pettis County Cerebral Palsy Association.

The budget for Pettis County Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., was set up at the meeting until September, when new officers will be elected and the budget for the remainder of the year will be set up.

Other officers in addition to Miss Dugan and McCloskey are treasurer Jack Neist and Publicity Chairman Mrs. William Hurlbut.

Two new officers were elected at the meeting Wednesday, Vice chairman Dr. D. H. Robinson and Secretary Mrs. E. E. Colbert.

Members of the board are: Dr. A. L. Lowe, Dr. D. H. Robinson,

Wet, Cloudy Weather Covers Most of US

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Skies cleared in the rain-and-snow drenched areas of the far Southwest today but it looked like the same brand of wet and cloudy weather in most other parts of the country.

A snow belt extended through the southern Ohio Valley and eastward into the higher elevations of Virginia. Falls ranging up to 6 to 8 inches in the mountain area were forecast, with 2 to 4 inches in sections of Kentucky and Tennessee.

Rain fell across most of the Southeast states from the Mississippi River and spread into sections of the mid-Atlantic states. Snow diminished considerably in the north Atlantic states, but skies were generally cloudy in most areas.

Mrs. D. H. Robinson, Mrs. J. C. McCloskey, Mrs. Virginia Flower, Mrs. P. V. Siegel, Smithson; I. H. Reed, Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer, Dr. D. R. Edwards, Dr. John Lamy, Mrs. Colbert, Mrs. Abe Silverman and Leon K. Whitney.

These people all serve as volunteers, and said Davidson, are paid only through the satisfaction they receive through helping those who cannot help themselves.

The board voted to hold quarterly meetings with the next meeting to be in June.

Miss Ila May Hoffman of the Crippled Children's Society from the University of Missouri was a guest.

Tribute was paid to Mrs. Connor and her untiring effort in the Pettis County Crippled Society.

Air Force Plans New 'Space' Trip For Test Crews

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—Even before the Air Force's five-man "space crew" is accustomed to walking around outside the simulated space ship where they spent five days, Wright Air Development Center reports it is planning another "flight."

Capt. John Roth, a neurological surgeon who helped monitor the 120-hour test which ended yesterday, said another may be made in a month or six weeks.

The five-man test crew was in high spirits after a simulated 17,650-mile flight.

"Everybody expected us to be at each other's throats," Capt. Dan D. Fulgham, 30, Pasadena, Tex., said, adding: "I never spent a more amiable time in my life."

The flight commander, Maj. Russell D. Brewington, 33, Houston, Tex., agreed that there was no morale problem.

"They were congenial as hell," he reported.

The "flight," second to be held by the WADC, was to determine what effect long confinement in close quarters would have on morale and efficiency of space crews.

The men, all volunteers and all veteran pilots who have logged at least 3,000 hours flying time, spent their five-day test in a cabin 17 feet long, 7 feet wide and 6 feet high.

The other three "space men" were Capt. James V. Kennedy, 36, Chicago; Capt. William D. Johnston Jr., 33, Chattanooga, Tenn.;

and Capt. Lawrence J. McEachern, 37, Millinocket, Maine.

1958 FUL-O-PEP CHICK STARTER grows sound-bodied, sturdy CHICKS WITH A FUTURE!

GROWS BIRDS FIT...NOT FAT

Give your baby chicks the extra growth power they need to grow sound, sturdy bodies and strong rugged bones. Start 'em on new, nutritious Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter. It grows chicks fit...not fat!

98% OR MORE CHICKS LIVE

New vitamin-rich Ful-O-Pep is highly fortified with vital health ingredients to give your chicks more vim and vigor...added life protection, too. Many poultrymen report over 98% livability, some 100%. What better insurance can you provide for your future layers?

BUILDS AMERICA'S BEST PULLETS

For 15 years in the National Egg Laying Tests—birds grown on Ful-O-Pep Feeds averaged laying more eggs, and bigger eggs, than birds grown on other feeds...official proof that Ful-O-Pep grows America's best laying pullets.

BIRDS LAY FEWER PEEWEES

On the famous Ful-O-Pep Plan, pullets are not forced to lay prematurely...are allowed to develop normally and fully before they are brought into egg production. As a result, they lay big, full-sized eggs—very few, if any peggies.

PRODUCE 18 MORE TOTAL EGGS

Research shows that pullets grown on the famous Ful-O-Pep Restricted Feeding Plan laid 18 more eggs than full-sisters grown on forced-feeding plans. Their eggs were bigger, too—averaging almost 1½ ounces more, per dozen!

Ful-O-Pep's Restricted Feeding Plan

SAVES $400 PER 1000 BIRDS

You buy only 2 lbs. Chick Starter—5 lbs. Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash per bird on range on the Ful-O-Pep Restricted Feeding Plan. This famous plan has been used by leading poultrymen for 20 years. You save up to 8 lbs. total feed per bird, over forced-feeding plans, or about 40¢ per bird!

Simplified plan makes feeding easy

You feed only 5 lbs. of Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash per 100 birds—5 days a week. Feed oats every day. It's that simple! Ask your Ful-O-Pep Dealer about this easy-to-follow plan—so you, too, can grow big, profitable pullets...and save about 40¢ per bird!

Spring break-ups can break up cars and equipment —but not on all-weather concrete streets

Concrete streets are not subject to the ruts, bumps and chuckholes other types of pavement suffer due to Spring thawing. Cars driven over such broken streets can suffer severe damage as they careen dangerously over craters that can't be avoided.

That's why at the time of the annual Spring break up, motorists seek out concrete streets—where they know there will be no "closed" or "detour" signs—and where every mile is smooth-riding and safe.

Wet or dry, day or night, year in and year out, concrete is the safest street pavement known to engineering science.

Costly? Not concrete! Concrete pavement actually costs less to build than other pavements designed for the same traffic. Concrete lasts years longer, costs less to maintain. Result: low annual cost to you the taxpayer.
